

HELP BRINGS HOPE FOR HAITI, INC.

February 2006

Help Brings Hope for Haiti, Inc. (HBHH), is a non-profit organization formed to help the poorest of the poor in Haiti. Currently we work with Fr. Desinord Jean, from Port-au-Prince, Haiti and Bishop Langlois Chibly, Bishop of Fort Liberte Diocese in Haiti.

HBHH is working on several projects. We are building a school and finishing the convent for the sisters that run the school and clinic. We are also in the process of furnishing the very basic medical clinic. HBHH is trying to solve the water problems in order to furnish clean water and sanitary latrines in Fort Liberte Diocese. HBHH is also working on related communication and energy problems.

Medical Mission: This summer we will be taking a team of doctors, nurses, and lay people to Haiti to take care of some of the medical needs in Fort Liberte Diocese.

We are currently gathering medical supplies, medicines, and over the counter items to help us in that mission.

You can help by donating items to us to ship to Haiti. A full list is on the back of items needed. We will ship a truck in March and another in May.

Medical Clinic in St. Suzanne, Haiti

Christ the King School in Cotelette, Haiti, currently under construction – completion scheduled 06/06.

New School: We are building a school that will teach 400 children who have not been able to attend school. The school will be called Christ the King Catholic School in Cotelette, Haiti. It is in the mountains of Fort Liberte Diocese located in the north east corner of Haiti.

Today, you helped to make that school a reality by moving the furniture that will be used in that school. Food for the Poor will send a container that will ship this furniture to the Port of Cap Haitian, in Northern Haiti. From there it will be trucked to the new school.

We need help! All donations of time, donated items, or money are welcomed. Please call us for more information or suggestions in ways you can help us help those that seem to be forgotten. May God Bless you for hearing and responding to this appeal!
